Earlier this summer, Tulane “rolled out the green carpet” at over 25 annual Hello Wave events, welcoming alumni, current students and incoming students/families to the Tulane family. Held throughout the country and abroad, these casual get-togethers are sponsored by the Office of Alumni Relations and offer an opportunity for alumni and current students to celebrate the university’s newest arrivals and welcome them to Tulane in style. Past, current and future Tulanians are able to connect with each other and the local Tulane community before heading to campus.
